Taken from Lecture 5 by Arthur Oakman - Compiled by Pat Chadwick

Oakman says: “I remember as a small boy hearing my paternal grandmother telling the family that the night before she had a vision. She had seen the place on earth from which the City of Enoch had been taken. In my impressionable mind it stayed with me, and it is still with me to this day...She bore testimony that she knew the City of Enoch was real and was concerned with what was transpiring on the earth. The city of Enoch, this innumerable company of angels, are men who have labored upon the earth; and into that city have gathered since that time those who through their faith have found redemption. They are waiting to return to the earth to claim their inheritance. The world has not been cleansed to be made a fit place for their habitation before this because God in His mercy has seen fit to restrain the devouring flood of destruction in order that some few of His children might repent and create upon this earth a fit counterpart---so that heaven and earth could come together, and the sons of God be tried so as by fire”

Oakman then speaks of the order of the Everlasting Covenant of the Holy Priesthood and says: “By faith they should have power to work righteousness, to subdue kingdoms and principalities, to set at defiance the armies of the earth, to break every band, and to stand in the presence of God. Can you imagine us doing these things? When we read of the privileges and the powers which are attached to the Melchisedec priesthood—what lies before us and what is possible of achievement through faith—we cannot but bow our heads and say, ‘Lord, I believe; help thou mine unbelief (Mark 9:21).’ This is the power by which the Kingdom of Zion shall be brought to pass. It is the power of God; and it centers in that radiant company, the company of the redeemed—who wait in their place until the day shall come when God shall say, ‘It is enough’ Then shall they return to the earth and have place until the end comes.”

Oakman asks us, “Can you imagine these things?” Can we? Are we ready as a people for the tasks that are before us? Are we ready for Enoch’s City? If not, why not? God has warned us over & over that the time is short. We must move forward in our preparation. Let us be mighty in prayer, fasting and study that = The Windows of Heaven Will Be Opened and the Promised Blessings Poured Out, that we Might Be Made Ready! Now is the Time for Action!!
