

The Day in Which We Live - Part 2

By Aaron Smith

In that same May sermon, God wanted us to know that this was His passionate love and it was coming to purify us. It may seem strange to some - comparing a world-wide pandemic to God's love, and yet that is what He told me to tell the people. He was going to allow it (not that he brought it on us) so that His work could bring forth a pure vessel – pure refined gold, where the master sees His image in the reflection. And now in the fall of '22 we find ourselves almost back to 'normal'. Except we face a war in Europe, with more wars in the Middle East, Taiwan and other places, and economic collapse, the potential for societal unrest, severe drought in many places in the world, food shortages and supply chain issues. Any one of these things will cause a new wave. Several of them all at once would be the equivalent of a tsunami. Will your anchor (faith) hold in the storm? Are you grounded and centered on Christ alone? Do the things of this world still have sway in your life? Or do you love the kingdom of God so much, that like our spiritual forefathers of old, you are willing to walk away, like they did, from the land they knew and become pilgrims and strangers seeking for a city with foundations? God loves us too much for us to continue to portray our lives to the world as His bride, but be continually consumed by the things of this world. He is coming to purge the sons of Levi and those that have been tithed will not be burned. His Zion will be the result. And that Zion will be a light unto the world - a place of safety and refuge for world.

unto me, What are these which are

And he said to me, These are they which came out of great tribulation, and have washed their robes, and made them
white in the blood of the Lamb.*
